2 Bristol Cathedral

College Green, Bristol BS1 5TJ

Opening times: Daily 8.00am - until after Evensong

A church has probably stood on this site for over a thousand years but it came to prominence in 1140 when Robert Fitzhardinge founded the Abbey of St. Augustine. The Chapter House and Abbey Gatehouse remain clearly to be seen: other remains are within Bristol Cathedral Choir School.

The eastern end of the Cathedral, especially in the Choir, gives Bristol Cathedral a unique place in the development of British and European Architecture. The Nave, Choir and Aisles are all the same height, making a large hall. Bristol Cathedral is the major example of a 'Hall Church' in Great Britain and one of the finest anywhere in the world.

1 St Thomas the Martyr

St Thomas Street, Bristol BS1 6QR

Opening times: Wednesdays 10.30am - 2.30pm or by appointment

A fine Classical building of 1792-93, with an imposing east end, this church was designed by James Allen, and incorporates the fifteenth century tower of an earlier church on the site.

The original church was in a wealthy trading area and some of it's fine furnishings have been retained, such as the carved oak altarpiece from 1716, the early Georgian organ and gallery, and a carved pulpit. Nineteenth century alterations included the reduction of the pulpit, and refashioning of pews, and the rebuilding of the organ, but the interior is still stunning – grand, filled with light from it's arched windows, and with amazing acoustics.

The church is available for hire for performance or exhibition space and may be opened for viewing at other times on request.

4 St John the Baptist

Broad Street/Nelson Street, Bristol BS1 2EZ

Opening times: Thursdays and Saturdays 10.00am - 1.00pm
or by appointment

St John's is the only remaining church built into Bristol's city walls in the 12th century, acting both as part of the city's defences, and as places for travellers to offer prayers before a journey. The present building dates from the 14th century, with it's tower and spire above the North gate of the wall. Below the church lies an atmospheric vaulted crypt, a former prestigious burial place. The church is also the destination of a thirteenth century water conduit. Today, the building offers peace and beauty right in the heart of the city.

The church and crypt are available for hire for performance or exhibition space and may be opened for viewing at other times on request.

6 St Mary Redcliffe

Redcliffe Way, Bristol BS1 5NL

Opening times: Daily 8.30am - 5.00pm. (On certain festivals the Church is only open for worship—please check our website.)

St Mary Redcliffe is a masterpiece of Gothic architecture. Within its walls you will find a superb collection of carved bosses, elegant eighteenth century ironwork, beautiful stained glass and a world famous organ. Queen Elizabeth I once referred to it as “The fairest, goodliest and most famous parish church in England”. The church is sited on the red cliffs above the floating harbour and was originally at the very centre of shipping and industry which is the key to its history. The merchants of the Port of Bristol began and ended their voyages at the shrine of Our Lady of Redcliffe and to them, especially William Canynges and his grandson in the 14th and 15th centuries, we owe the body of the Church as it is today.

5 St James Priory

Whitson Street, Bristol BS1 3NZ

Opening times: Monday - Saturday 9.00am - 5.00pm
Sunday 8.00am for Mass closing at 9.00am.

St James is the oldest church in Bristol; it was established in 1129 on the north side of the Frome, in the site of Bristol Castle. In the 12th century, it was a Benedictine Priory founded by Robert Earl of Gloucester, a figure of national importance. It is thought to have the oldest wheel window in the country. In its day, the monks who lived here were considered to be the ‘social services’ for all the community around. In the 18th century, John and Charles Wesley, who were ordained Anglican ministers and founders of the Methodist Church, considered St James as their local parish church and preached here on many occasions.

7 St Pauls

Portland Square, Bristol BS2 8SJ

Opening times: Daily 9.00am - 5.00pm. Visitors are advised to check beforehand on 0117 924 7615

Set in its historic churchyard, St Paul’s is the focal point of one of the few and best surviving 18th-century squares in Bristol. Built in 1789-95 to designs by Daniel Hague, it is among the most important examples of provincial Gothic architecture. The glory of the interior is the animated and elegant plasterwork of the nave ceiling and chancel arch. A fine collection of monuments includes a memorial by Flaxman to Col. Spencer Thomas Vassall.

The church is now the home of Circomedia, a circus school and venue available for hire, with modern facilities and a state of the art performance space within the Georgian interior.
